My selections are usually created under Windows, but today I used Linux Mint.

I've changed selection criteria since last weekend as I had an epiphany. Horses beaten six (not 12) lengths aren't really running in an indicative manner. I look at the previous race for more races now.

Also found a neat python library to easily enable communication between programs. Running the picks used to take 3-5 minutes, but now takes about 1.5 seconds! This will speed up any program tuning I need to do. If you use python, try zmq!
